Bus Offering Viewed With Suspicion

But P.E. May Agree To Give Limited Service In Canyon If Terms Accepted

The Chamber of Commerce suggestion that the Pacific Electric include the Canyon Park district in its proposed "stub" bus service between Sierra Madre and San Marino stands a "fair chance" of being adopted by the railroad company, it was revealed this week by Paul N. Carter and Thomas R. Meader, members of the Chamber's transportation committee, following discussion of the subject with O. A. Smith, general traffic manager of the Pacific Electric.

"Your proposition looks favorable, providing a schedule can be worked out," Smith was reported to have said.

Smith has taken the proposed bus-service extension under advisement.

Warning against taking a too optimistic view of the situation however, several members of the Chamber called attention to the frank suspicion of numerous commuters of the railroad company's ultimate aim, in spite of its assurances to the contrary.

They also declare that many commuters regard the railroad's statement that it is too expensive to outfit and install the "1000-type" cars on the shuttle service as little more than "stock phraseology."

The route now being considered, according to Carter, will be east on Sierra Madre Blvd., north on Mountain Trail avenue to Sturtevant Drive, into the Canyon Park district via Sturtevant Drive as far as the municipal plunge, back on Sturtevant Drive to Mountain Trail avenue, north a half block to Mira Monte avenue, west to Baldwin avenue and south on Baldwin to Sierra Madre Blvd. Terminus of the busses would be the Huntington Drive junction in San Marino.

It was pointed out that the proposed route would provide the 500 Canyon Park residents with a direct transportation hookup with Los Angeles.

A test run of the proposed route was made by Carter recently, revealing, he said, that a schedule could be easily worked out.

The P. E.'s petition to the railroad commission, a copy of which was received by the Chamber of Commerce this week, says it proposes to operate "single deck motor coaches of standard make and modern design, of not less than 25-passenger capacity." The petition declares that "travel checks have been taken and indicate that a 25-passenger motor coach will adequately care for the traffic offered. No change in fares is proposed."

Injecting a surprise element in the rail-bus situation, printed cards urging readers to "protest the abandonment of electric rail service" appeared mysteriously on telephone poles, trees and other public places over the weekend. About four by two inches in size, the cards read:

"Protest the abandonment of electric rail service between Sierra Madre and San Marino by writing the local Chamber of Commerce and patronizing the present rail service. Protect your property values by keeping electric railway service."

The cards appeared up and down West Sierra Madre Blvd., on the walls of the two P. E. stations here and along the trolley route through Lamanda Park and San Marino to the junction.

Just who put them up is something of a mystery. The Chamber of Commerce had no knowledge of them. City officials were completely in the dark. The local P. E. agent likewise was at a loss to account for the cards. Even the conductors and motormen professed ignorance.

Observers hazarded two possible sources of the cards—the Electric Railroads Association and the Railway Brotherhood. It was recalled that I. R. Black, 1110 West 61st Street, Los Angeles, representing the former body, wrote the Chamber of Commerce recently vigorously protesting the proposed abandonment of part of the P. E.'s rail service here.

The Chamber of Commerce is expected to take some definite action on the bus proposal at a meeting of the directors Tuesday morning. A conference with city officials will be held in the interim in the hope that there will be united action on the subject.

Bishop Stevens Is Coming Here Sunday

Next Sunday evening, Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens of Los Angeles, will visit the Church of the Ascension and hold a confirmation service for nine candidates from the parish and another who will be presented by Rev. Bertram Warren, of Pomona. After the confirmation the Bishop will preach. There will be a short reception in the Parish House after the service to meet the Bishop and welcome the newly confirmed. The service will begin at 7:30 p.m. to which the public is cordially welcome.

25 Children Attend Health Roundup At The School

A doctor, a dentist, a dental nurse and three Sierra Madre women, all registered nurses, gave 25 youngsters the once-over Friday in the P.T.A.'s first annual "health roundup" here of boys and girls of the pre-school age.

While the doctors were tapping the youngsters' chests and telling them to say "Ah," the nurses jotted down the youngsters' case histories.

Assisting Drs. M. H. A. Peterson and Earl Rogers, of Pasadena, were Mrs. Marvin Coates, Mrs. Marian Pendergast and Mrs. Myrtle Davidson. Local chairman in charge was Mrs. Persis Roach.

The children were "rounded up" from lists supplied by Rev. Stewart R. Sheriff, Dean Arnold Coates and the fire department. Transportation was furnished by Mrs. Leila Embury and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Hail Cooking School As Big Success

Final Class Taxes Club House Auditorium—Prize Winners At Last Session

THE three day free cooking school of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS last week was an outstanding community event and so thoroughly enjoyed that the women of this city insist it should be made a yearly event.

The auditorium of the Woman's clubhouse on the final day, Thursday, was filled to capacity and chairs placed at the entrance and along one side to accommodate the overflow.

After the prizes had been awarded, Dick Honey, representing the Southern Counties Gas Co., who acted as master of ceremonies, asked Mrs. Martens, who directed the school in such a splendid manner, if she would say just a few words.

"The Sierra Madre school," she said, "is one of the best I have ever handled—your people are so friendly, the merchants so understanding and ready to help in every way, that I will not soon forget your city. I have enjoyed immensely the privilege of being here." She paid a glowing tribute to THE NEWS and thanked L. R. Goshorn, publisher, for the manner in which his newspaper through its columns helped put the school over and make it such a success. She asked the audience for their approval and Mr. Goshorn who had been asked to speak briefly and who was on the stage, was given a hearty round of applause.

Editor Goshorn thanked the home merchants for the real interest they had shown in the school and stressed the point that in Sierra Madre we have a business district of merit and public spirited store keepers who are always ready and willing to co-operate in a project that means something to the community. He asked for a vote of thanks for the merchants who were given round after round of applause.

Mrs. Martens by her personality and ability to put over her tempting recipes, and her willingness to answer all questions won the hearts of her listeners.

The prizes on the final day included a handsome complete dinner set of colored pottery, dinnerware and baskets of groceries from Sierra Madre markets, the Safeway Stores and Perry's Food Mart. Flowers were added to the prize list and contributed by George Kunihiro, owner of the Oakwood Florist Shop on Foot-hill boulevard.

The winners, prizes and donors for the final day are as follows:

Woman Loses $5,000 Suit Against City

Supreme Court Judge Scores Witnesses For Alleged Negligence

Because witnesses, who testified to the existence of a "chuck-hole" in front of 90 Michillinda Blvd., had failed to notify the city that the hole was there, Mrs. Inez Schuyler, 225 Witmer street, Los Angeles, lost her suit for $5,000 against the City of Sierra Madre in Los Angeles Superior Court yesterday.

Mrs. Schuyler claimed she tripped over the hole last June 21.

The city denied any knowledge of the hole prior to the filing of Mrs. Schuyler's suit and said it was then immediately repaired.

Pointing out that witnesses who knew the hole was there and failed to report it were guilty of "criminal negligence," Judge Ballard's decision was hailed by city officials as a deterrent to future suits of this nature against municipalities.

The city's battery of witnesses included S. S. Myers, Dan Lewis, Waverly E. Pratt, Marion Hays, William Schwartz, Sam Mercer and J. Adlemeyer.

Lots Must Be Cleared Of Weeds Now

City employees began posting notices in front of weed covered lots and parking yesterday, advising property owners that unless the nuisance is abated and the fire hazard removed before June 1, city crews will move in and do the work, charging the cost to the property. This is in pursuance to the resolution adopted by the city council at its meeting on May 12.

Setting a good example to citizens, the city also put a crew of weed choppers to work clearing off the parking along the sidewalks.

No decision has yet been reached as to how the city will proceed when it attacks the weed destruction job. Some members of the city council are known to favor plowing or discing. Property owners may burn the nuisance off their premises but they must secure a permit to do so at the city hall.

Because of supervision, time and book keeping charges, it usually costs property holders 50 per cent more to have the city do the work than have it done under contract themselves. A protest meeting will be held by the council Wednesday June 9, when anyone opposing the city's action will be heard.

Los Angeles Family Buys A Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Herwit of Los Angeles, have purchased the property at the corner of Santa Anita Court and South Mountain Trail avenue, the Neale and Russell Co. announced yesterday.

Mr. Herwit is a nephew of J. S. Weber, 140 East Alegria avenue.

EARLY AMERICAN TRADITIONS ABSORBED BY GRAMMAR SCHOOL IN HISTORY STUDIES

Appreciative study of the rigors endured by our forefathers is daily being brought to the attention of pupils of the 5-A grade at the Sierra Madre school under the leadership of Miss Jeanetta Yerxa in a curriculum embracing the Pioneer Life of America.

The avidity with which the children work with this unit of study exemplifies their innate love of American history and traditions. Shadows of that brave past when stalwart men and their helpmates toiled side by side carving homesteads out of the virgin land assumed human shape as we delved into the lore of these great people—our ancestors.

The realistic log cabin at the east end of the room probably caught our gaze the first thing, for it was picturesque to the nth degree. It was flanked by scenery representing the Blue Ridge mountains which towered above golden cornfields and forests of trees.

The study of these people goes dramatically on every school day of the year with the pupils enacting the life that was lived in that long ago. The growth of the country under such intrepid men as Daniel Boone, Lewis and Clark, and others is taken up together with their food, clothes, and mode of travel. The glowing deeds connected with the acquisition of the American territory including Texas, Oregon, and California are brought into play enabling the children to learn their geography, history, language, and arithmetic in a vivid fashion entirely unknown to their parents.

For example, the large relief map of the United States, which is now under construction, brings in its wake the study of fractions,

New Route To Canyon Park Suggested

Canyon Avenue Approach Would Relieve Congestion And Give Two Outlets

Looking towards the opening of North Canyon Drive between Alegria avenue and Sturtevant Drive, a project that it is believed would materially relieve weekend traffic congestion on the lower end of Sturtevant Drive and at the same time provide Canyon Park residents with two exits from the district, city officials are negotiating with the county flood control district in an effort to iron out legal obstacles in the way of the proposed road.

A right of way across a portion of the property in the path of the proposed road was granted to the flood control district several years ago and the property was withdrawn from the assessment rolls.

It is now asked that the city be given a definite deed to the property by the county, thus permitting the city to start work on the extension.

The city council was urged by Paul N. Carter to take immediate action on the matter at its meeting last week.

Carter also told the council the property owners are agreeable to foot the major cost of paving the proposed road.

Observations

By Lee Shippey

PUBLIC servants in Ourville take their jobs pretty seriously. Mrs. Henrietta Hinkley, newest member of the school board, is planning to take a university course in school administration so she will be thoroughly informed on school problems. It isn't every housewife with two children who would do that.

Assembly Bill May Stop Plan To Add 7th School Grade

Opponents of the teachers committee suggestion to add a seventh grade to the grammar school here derived further ammunition from statements made Tuesday in the course of an installation meeting of the Pasadena Jaycee Patrons Association.

A bill to legalize the 6-4-4 educational plan is pending in the state legislature. Dr. John W. Harbeson, principal of the institution, revealed. He added that J. P. O'Mara, the school's dean, is in Sacramento to aid in securing the bill's passage.

Dr. Harbeson declared that legislative recognition of the plan, which is that under which Sierra Madre boys and girls, as well as Pasadena school children, attend school, will lead to a growth in the system in California.

Mrs. Phillip Senour, historian, was among the officers inducted. E. E. Hitchcock was appointed by the school board recently to investigate the seventh grade proposal. It is expected that his report will be made in the near future.

Another Ball Game On School Field This Evening

The Sierra Madre Merchants baseball team will play the San Gabriel Construction team on the school grounds tonight. Game starts at 8 o'clock. The visitors are recruited from construction workers now on the job in San Gabriel canyon and are said to have a strong outfit. The locals batting order will be about the same as last week.

An All-Woman First Aid Class Being Organized Here

An all-woman first aid class is now being organized by James C. Harper, first aid instructor, of 160 West Highland avenue, it was announced yesterday by the local Red Cross chapter.

Interested persons may leave their name and addresses with Miss Louise Judson at the Red Cross headquarters, 14 North Baldwin avenue; with Joe Swanson at the city hall, or at Mr. Harper's home.

Memorial Day Parade Is Arranged

Many Organizations To Join In Observance On Monday, May 31

Memorial Day exercises, honoring the city's war dead, will be conducted Monday morning, May 31, by members of Sierra Madre Post No. 297, American Legion, and Sierra Madre Post No. 3208, and Sierra Madre Post No. 3208.

Assembling at Canyon Drive and Sierra Madre Blvd., at 9:30 a.m., members of the two posts, children from St. Rita's parochial school and the public school, and representatives of civic and fraternal groups will march to the cemetery where the brief but impressive rites will be held.

The exercises will include an invocation by Rev. Stewart R. Sheriff, roll call by Adj. Howard Cant of the Legion, songs by the school children, a talk by Judge Wilbur Thayer, benediction by Dean Arnold G. Bode, singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the entire assembly, firing squad salute, and taps, played by Samuel Embree and Stanton Irvin.

In preparation for the exercises, the posts have cleaned up the graves of all veterans. It is urged that all other graves be cleaned up by families and relatives before the services.

Members of the Legion Auxiliary next week will gather and prepare the flowers which will be placed on the graves of veterans the Sunday afternoon preceding Memorial Day. Everyone growing flowers is urged to contribute some for decoration of the graves. Call Mrs. Norman Jensen at the city hall and arrangements will be made to have them picked up, or to have members of the Legion Auxiliary cut them.

Propose New Route For Water Line

Metropolitan District Offers Compromise On Grand View Avenue

Agreement for moving the proposed course of the Metropolitan Water District's pipe line on East Grand View avenue approximately six feet south of the present tentative location of the pipe line will have to be negotiated with the District rather than the contractor, the United Concrete Pipe Company, Mayor Reavis informed a representative of the concrete company at last week's council meeting.

The company's agent told the council that the relocation of the pipe line will necessitate taking out five palm trees along the south side of the street. He said the company has agreed to box the trees, so that the city can replant them elsewhere if it wishes. The company has also agreed to replace all other trees damaged in the process of digging the huge ditch in which the pipe line will be laid. The only exception, he explained, will be oak trees.

While the company's proposals appeared satisfactory to the council, the city prefers to negotiate the agreement directly with the Metropolitan Water District, the mayor stated.

Red Cross Officers In New Location

Friends of the Red Cross were reminded yesterday that the new headquarters of the local chapter are now at 14 North Baldwin avenue, in the large one-story building recently occupied by a furniture company.

The former headquarters were in the old Town Hall building, now being wrecked.

Ol' Town Hall Soon Just A Memory

50-Year Old Building On City's Main Corner Being Razed by Wrecking Crew

It was standing room only at the Old Timers bench alongside the P.E. station this week.

The bench provided a first-rate ringside seat for the spectacle taking place across the street—the wrecking of the old Town Hall.

Fifty years ago this year the building came into being. It was the town's first public building and a pretty elaborate one, as buildings went in the 80's, with its cupola and "gingerbread."

At that time Baldwin avenue and Sierra Madre Blvd.—then Central avenue—were only dusty wagon roads. There was only a sprinkling of houses here then and of course no interurban line. That was to come years later, in 1906.

But in 1887—five years after N. C. Carter founded Sierra Madre—Southern California was enjoying one of its first important social centers. Choral, large and imposing "hostelries" had already been erected here and at different points in the San Gabriel Valley, and one of them—the Sierra Madre Villa—was located just west of the budding town.

With notables from all over the nation sojourning at the Villa during the winter months, those early-day Sierra Madreans decided their village ought to keep pace with progress. So they built a Town Hall.

In the early days the building, besides providing office space for the village's functionaries, was an important social center. Choral societies met there regularly and staged events that attracted residents from nearby towns, nabobs from the Villa and an occasional newspaperman, one of whom wrote a piece about one of the "socials" for the Chicago Tribune.

Later the building passed into the hands of a Mrs. Sarah A. Robinson, the city having moved its offices into a one-story building in the west end of Kersting Court.

M. T. Russell next acquired the landmark, and he in turn sold it to A. N. Adams in August, 1906, for $7,000. The deal was handled through the old Sierra Madre Realty Co., of Hosmer and Perry.

At the time Russell operated a grocery store in the building and John Rasmussen ran a meat market there. In the rear was the post office.

Two years later, in 1908, Adams built three small stores just north of the hall and later the larger building occupied by the Huddleston Furniture Co. Adams total property consisted of 110 feet on Baldwin avenue and 150 feet on Central avenue.

Subsequently the hall was remodelled, offices being added in front, and these were occupied at different times by Dr. L. L. Krebs and Attorney Robert Mitchell.

Various lodges held their meetings upstairs and the hall was still an important center of the town's social life.

Later M. D. Welsher acquired the grocery store and after some years sold it to Tom Solury.

But time passed, other and more modern stores made their appearance and gradually tenants drifted away. For the past couple of years the once-prod building, which boasted 30 tenants in its hey-day, has served as the headquarters of the local Red Cross chapter, its large upstairs hall gathering dust and cobwebs.

Recently Adams, who had held the building since 1906, sold it to John A. Renshaw, of West Arcadia.

It was announced this week by C. J. Chamberlain, Renfrew's agent, that the building is being wrecked in the hope the property will find a more ready market.

Rumor has it that the Union Oil Co. is interested in the property, as well as a big chain-market concern and one of the larger chain grocery stores.

Exhibits At 4-H Club Fair Will Cover A Wide Range

Over seven hundred exhibits, many contributed by Sierra Madre members, will be displayed by the 500 4-H Club members in the San Gabriel and San Fernando Valleys at the sixth annual Los Angeles county 4-H Club Fair at El Monte today and tomorrow.

Fair officials and club members, including several Sierra Madre young people, are endeavoring to make this year's Fair, which is being held in conjunction with the El Monte "End of the Santa Fe Trail" celebration, an outstanding success.

For the first time in the history of the show it is being held for a two-day period.

Exhibits will include poultry, pigeons, rabbits, livestock, fruits and vegetables, bees, flowers and nursery stock, handicraft, clothing, food preservation, dairy products, pictures, cakes and pies.

Pet, Hobby Show To Be Big Affair

Hundreds Of Entries Mean Last Year's Event Will Be Surpassed Tomorrow

Pet lovers and hobbyists—who include virtually every boy and girl in town and most of the adults—today are readying their entries for Sierra Madre's biggest and best Pet and Hobby Show.

The event, which has attracted nationwide publicity and is already being copied by several Southern California communities, will get under way on the school ball diamond at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

The afternoon's proceedings, featuring the youngsters' pet show, will outshine a county fair and circus combined.

Birds, rabbits, white mice, gold fish, turtles, chickens, ducks, pigeons, monkeys and ponies will be proudly exhibited by their youthful owners, as well as cats and dogs of every shape, size and variety.

Ribbons will be awarded for the smallest dog, the bandiest-legged dog, the dog with the most sympathetic eyes, the fattest dog, the worst mongrel, the dog with the most spots, the dog with the longest tail, the dog with the most tricks, the best dog of all breeds and the best dog of the show.

Still more ribbons will be passed out to youngsters showing the smallest cat, the fattest cat, the cat with the longest tail, the cat with the longest whiskers, the oldest cat and the best cat of the show.

Judges—who will probably go into an abrupt decline after awarding the ribbons—will be Harry Lange, Waverly E. Pratt, E. E. Hitchcock and Frank Naley.

Opening of the show, which will be held in the school cafeteria, will take place at 7 p.m. One hour later an all-hobbyist cast will stage a gala variety show in the auditorium.

There will be readings by Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney, harmonic selections by Henry Shippey, songs by Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, piano selections by Gustav Rihard, organ selections by Dean Arnold Bode and choral numbers by a PTA mother's quartet. Perley Poore Sheehan will emcee the affair.

Among the more important exhibits in the hobby show will be an exhibition of model airplanes, exhibits of paintings, photographs and woodblocks and woodwork and etchings, under the jurisdiction of Alfred James Dewey, Louis Ziegler and Vernon Jay Morse, respectively; miniatures by Ella Shepherd Bush, collections of all sorts, exhibits of sewing and handicrafts and special exhibits of Indian, Mexican, Japanese and Chinese art work.

An outstanding exhibit will be Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz' collection of silver-mounted saddles.

Organizations sponsoring exhibits will include the United States Forest Service, the Boy Scouts, the Kiwanis Club and the City of Sierra Madre.

Sponsored jointly by the Kiwanis Club and the PTA, both the pet and the hobby show are under the general supervision of Dr. J. L. Woehler as chairman.

Admission is free and everyone is cordially invited. If you have a hobby or something you prize most highly, take it along and enter it, the committee urges.

Committeemen representing the PTA include Mrs. Edith Kenney, Mrs. Lee Shippey, Mrs. Gladys Albright and Miss Elizabeth Steinger.

The Kiwanis committeemen are Frank Spencer, Waverly E. Pratt, Harry Lange, Roy Pickett and Charles B. Klunk.

Lillian Burkhart Speaks At Wistaria Gardens Sunday

The Wistaria Association will present Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith in a supper-program at the Wistaria Vine Gardens at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, it was announced yesterday.

Mrs. Goldsmith is nationally recognized as an interpreter and lecturer of distinction. The program will also feature Frances Muller, young and distinguished pianist who recently played with the Los Angeles symphony orchestra, and Mrs. Harry Vairin-Snead, of London, Paris and New York.

Speaking on the subject, "From Luxor Egypt to Hollywood boulevard," Mrs. Vairin-Snead will bring with her a display of mementos of her travels, including Egyptian tomb relics and a necklace worn by Greta Garbo in one of her recent pictures.

Reservations may be made by phoning Sierra Madre 2763.

City To Get $11,007 Of Gas Tax Money

Sierra Madre's share of the $13,311,614 gas tax allocation for the biennium ending June 30 will be $11,007, according to information received by City Clerk Waverly E. Pratt from the state department of public works.

The larger figure represents the net proceeds of the one-half cent of the gas tax contributed to cities. One-quarter cent of the tax, or approximately $7,000,000, is for expenditures on state highways within the municipalities, and the other quarter cent of the tax is for use on street of major importance other than state highways.

A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE, DETERMINING AND DECLARING THAT WEEDS WHICH BEAR SEEDS OF A WINGY OR DOWNY NATURE, OR ATTAIN SUCH A LARGE GROWTH AS TO BECOME A FIRE MENACE WHEN DRY, OR WHICH ARE OTHERWISE NOXIOUS OR DANGEROUS, ARE GROWING UPON CERTAIN STREETS, SIDEWALKS AND PRIVATE PROPERTY IN SAID CITY OF SIERRA MADRE AND ARE A PUBLIC NUISANCE AND DECLARING THE INTENTION OF SAID CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE, TO ORDER THE ABATEMENT OF THE SAME AT THE COST OF THE PROPERTY OWNERS AS PROVIDED BY LAW.

To Lead El Monte Pioneer Parade

C.N.P.A. Service

El Monte's third annual Pioneer Days celebration opened last night with the coronation of Queen Dorothy Redd, and enters the second day today with a breakfast served by the Business and Professional Woman's Club. At noon the old timers will hold a reunion and picnic at the city park.

The big pioneer parade will start at 10 a.m. Saturday, forming in Carvey Avenue and proceeding west to Hoyt, north to Valley and east to Columbia. Only saddle horses and horse-drawn vehicles will be in the line of march.

At 2 p.m. at the El Monte Union High School athletic field will start the two-day championship rodeo. Some of the best contest riders in America have entered and seats have been arranged to care for 6,000 spectators.

At 11 a.m. Sunday morning the churches will hold a union pioneer service at the Columbia Grammar School Auditorium and the second day's contests of the rodeo will be staged at the athletic field.

Grammar School Children Get Their First Glimpse Of The Real, Live Land Of Make Believe

Do you remember the first time you ever went to a real play?

Hold the mirror up to the past and try to recall that glorious feeling that stole over you when the first strains of the overture began to ascend up toward the laughing cupids, roses and harps that were carved in gilt on pillars and ceiling.

Then when the curtain, which showed a marble summerhouse by the edge of a lake, went up, scenes that seemed unreal, so entrancing were they, you imagined that life was one long dream. Well, some little children experienced those same thoughts on Saturday afternoon when Miss Betty Newton took the pupils of her 2-B class over to Pasadena to see "Pinocchio" presented at the Civic Auditorium by members of the Junior League.

Some, who had never seen anything but a movie, were so thrilled that they are still talking about it excitedly.

The production need no long description here suffice to say, it was as charmingly done as all of the League's productions are. The scenic effects, as usual, were most artistic. And the whole caused quite a furore.

The class is reading the book for their literature lesson, hence the extreme interest it occasioned. Those who went with Miss Newton were Shirley Prante, Evelyn Noshier, Carolyn McLellan, Amanda Garcia, Fred Smedley, Phyllis Lentz, Marvel Roberts, Nobuko Umezaki, Boyd Keith, Jerry Brown and Reddie Smythe went with their mothers.

And now what next? Maurice Maeterlinck's "Bluebird," to be sure. This ever-young classic by the renowned Belgian writer will be elaborately produced by Mme. Marion de Beaulieu in behalf of the P.T.A. of Sierra Madre in lieu of her annual offering on the night of Saturday, June 12, at the school auditorium. Extensive training of Madame's pupils for this exquisite fantasy has been going on for quite awhile with deep cooperation being evinced by the cast, which is made up

Queen And Retinue Named For Tooth Templar Float

Saturday cannot come too soon for all of the brisk little Tooth Templars who are going to be in that parade at Temple City at 9 o'clock. They are all agog over the float which promises to be a most interesting affair.

Lois Wilson has been chosen as the queen and her attendants are Mary Nishijima, Floretta Keith, Jean Noshier, Teresa Keys, and Roy Warden. Two pages will be dressed as Tooth Templars. The theme is "Cleanliness."

Many clever touches will enhance it, such as balloons for soap bubbles and artistic signs created by members of Miss Lusted's class.

It is expected that 14 cars will leave from Sierra Madre carrying over sixty people. A business meeting following the parade in which the district president will be elected, will be held at South Santa Anita.

CHICAGO LESS THAN 37 HOURS BY RAIL NOW

The Santa Fe's new Super Chief, crowned speed king of the west by virtue of its record-scattering run between Los Angeles and Chicago, went into regular service between the two cities Tuesday night, May 18. Although it will make its one round trip weekly on a schedule of 39 hours and 45 minutes, the silver streamliner arrived in Chicago Monday morning, May 17, on a trial run, only 36 hours and 49 minutes after leaving Los Angeles, setting a new speed record. Record time formerly was 38 hours and 49 minutes.

of her various classes here and in Pasadena and adjacent towns. The spirit of the text has been faithfully retained, showing all of the master's infinite skill; but Mme. de Beaulieu has simplified the story somewhat.

Observance Of Poppy Day Urged

Legion Auxiliary Head Asks All Citizens To Show Appreciation Next Week

An appeal for general wearing of the memorial poppy in remembrance of the World War dead on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 29, was issued yesterday by Helen Lovejoy, president of the Sierra Madre Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. She asked that every person in Sierra Madre pay honor to the men of the city and of the nation who gave their lives in defense of the country by wearing a poppy on Poppy Day as a tribute to the memory of the men who died in World War service.

"Everyone can wear a poppy to show that he remembers and is grateful for the gallant sacrifices made for America's security and democracy," said Mrs. Lovejoy, "and we hope every patriotic citizen will take part in the observance of Poppy Day, for the poppy is the symbol of the supreme sacrifice. It stands for the highest type of patriotism we can conceive. Wearing this little flower awakens in our hearts a deeper conception of our duties to our country."

My times are in Thy hand.
Ps. 31:15.

It is a vain thought to flee from the work that God appoints us, for the sake of finding a greater blessing to our own souls; as if we could choose for ourselves where we shall find the fullness of the Divine Presence, instead of seeking it where alone it is to be found, in loving obedience.—George Eliot.

PRETTY SOFT

Is California to have a preferred class of citizens? There are distinct signs that we are headed that way. Curiously enough they live off the taxpayer's public. Goodness knows there are applicants aplenty now for the soft jobs on the State payroll, but if Governor Merriam signs a bill just approved by the Assembly everyone will be clamoring for the coveted places. And no wonder they are coveted. The powerful, persistent employees put over a law placing all the State payrollers under civil service, so that they were sure of their jobs no matter how indifferent or incompetent they might be. Then there was a general salary increase. Now the Assembly passes a bill giving this favored class a five day work Saturdays or Sundays, and of course public employees get a break on every pretext for a holiday, while others toil. And the work is never hard or exacting. Pretty soft for the payrollers.

IMPORTANT SURVEY

The official report from the 200 CCC camps of the Nation saying that governors on 20,000 trucks had decreased highway accidents 50 per cent is of the utmost importance. This is the most exhaustive study ever made on the subject of the effect on highway accidents of curbing high speed. The fact that the study was made under United States Army officials, who are in charge of the CCC camps, stamps the report as absolutely authentic.

The study also exposes the ridiculousness of the claim that no reliable speed governor has been developed. With Army thoroughness, camp officials, in cooperation with the manufacturers of governors, developed a speed-control device that has proven thoroughly satisfactory. No attempt was made to patent it, so this control under various trade names now is obtainable through thousands of retail outlets. Furthermore, the experience of the camps demonstrates the folly of the assertion that high-speed engines are necessary to extricate drivers from dangerous situations. In the CCC camps, high speed involved drivers in trouble far more often than it assisted them in getting out of it.

LOVE OF POWER

It is hardly too strong to say that the Constitution was made to guard against the danger of good intentions, real or pretended. There are men in all ages who mean to exercise power usefully—but who mean to exercise it. They mean to govern well but they mean to be masters. They think they need but little restraint upon themselves. Their notion of the public interest is apt to be quite closely connected with their own exercise of authority. The love of power may sink too deep in their own hearts even for their own security.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

HUNTING PEACE

In his early days, Mark Twain was the editor of a newspaper down in Missouri. One day he received a letter from a superstitious subscriber who wrote that he had found a spider in his paper, and he inquired if this was a good or a bad sign. The humorist replied with this printed letter:

"Finding a spider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck to you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and live a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

WHITSUNTIDE. And two of the loveliest birds in the world we think, a pair of Baltimore orioles, have come to live in our garden. Building a nest under the frond of a palm. Where there wasn't any nest before. So they're probably young. For older orioles, so far as we've observed, return to their previous nesting places year after year. Or, gold, as in oriole. Hence, oriole. The male-bird shining gold—a flash of Pentecostal fire—with a black cap and jabot; and black pipings on his smartly tailored coat, this wife in a sort of filmy golden green. We'd been hankering for orioles.

DOWN in Hollywood our house had a patio, not very large, shaded by a clump of banana trees. And here a pair of orioles used to build their nest, or nests, every year, practically within reach of our hand. There were seasons when they'd build as many as three nests, one right after the other; using only the last one, though, when it came to the business of raising a family. And a friend of ours who knew all about birds told us that the time this first nest was completed, they'd found that the weather was still unsettled. So they'd just gone on building because of the joy they took in their work.

IKE artists. We thought of that when we were up at Alfred Dewey's affair the other evening under the Wistaria Vine. A fine exhibition. Of pictures painted right here in Sierra Madre. With much thought of gain. Beautiful. Doubly so—the beauty of the achievement itself and the beauty of the quest behind the achievement. Not a greedy stroke of the brush in the whole exhibition. Not a millionaire, either, we warrant, in all that group of artists assembled there who'd made the exhibition possible.

RECALLING again the Poets' Night at the Vine, when the Cheyneys presided. From orioles to Aureoled, so to speak. Birds, painters, poets, musicians. When will our musicians have their night at the Vine? Our human—nightingales, this time. We remember the first time we ever heard a nightingale. It was in Paris. Just before dawn. In a dark and silent street. From over the wall of an old garden. It came like a spilling of musical pearls, a little cascade that shivered right through you, leaving you with a sensation of mysterious delight. As some pictures do, and poems and other music, or any generous deed.

BUT about those orioles. Another reason why we think this present pair are engaged on their first nest building job is that they make such a fuss about it. The old-timers we knew in Hollywood never made half the fuss. They'd strip down a few strong fibers from the banana-leaf, taking turns at the task, and hitch these up into a sort of swing; and the swing would become a padded saddle, then a woven tube; and then, almost before you know it, there you'd have it—the suspended pouch, smooth as a lady's purse; and the green-gold mother-bird slipping in and out just for the pleasure of it.

BUT these young birds dawdle and talk and go out to lunch. There are a couple of abutments (flowering-maples) in our back yard, hung with a thousand little red mission-bells; and at the base of these bells, where calyx and corolla meet, there exudes an elixir the orioles love. Our young orioles pass hours in these abutments, busy as bees; nor spoiling the flowers, either, any more than bees would do. Then back to the business of getting that nest into shape. But in the present instance it's the bridegroom who insists on doing most of the work—jabbering, jabbering; while the bride just sort of skips around and lets him. You can almost hear her say: "Let him alone. He's happy. I'll smooth it all out later, the way it ought to be."

WE remember now. When we started to do this column we had decided to write something about economic determinism. That just shows you. Anyway, we'll say this. Watching orioles the way we do, and poets, and artists, and dreaming of nightingales—as anyone may here in Sierra Madre, God bless it!—we've come to the belief that there's a determinism far more potent than the Marxian sort. We mean—how shall we put it?—a determinism of the spirit!—in orioles, in everything. A determinism, or urge, of the great, Great Spirit, is what we really mean; making the whole year round a sort of—Whitsuntide.

Gaddin' Around with BILL PEET

IF you by chance spent your boyhood days in the so-called effete east and after successfully combating measles, whooping cough and mumps, you got yourself all tangled up with poison ivy and had to stay out of school for a couple of days, you haven't forgotten, have you?

Of course you remember those days—and even a brief leave of absence from school hardly made up for the annoyance and discomfort of the rash that had to be treated due to poison ivy contact.

In this part of California, poison ivy boasts of a twin brother in poison oak, just as deadly and much more attractive in appearance. For the benefit of the mountain hiker or autoist I am printing a description of poison oak and quoting Spence D. Turner, County Forester and Fire Warden, who sounds the following warning:

"Don't attempt to pick any of the greenish-yellow, tassel like flowers now in bloom in Los Angeles water shed areas. If you do, you will probably suffer all the misery that comes from contact with poison oak, which is now in bloom.

"The plant can easily be distinguished by its glossy leaves of bright green, with their irregular wavy edges. They grow in groups of three leaflets to a stem. In late summer these leaves turn red—offering another temptation for amateur botanists and others to contact the poison."

Many Sierra Madreans have felt the sting of poison oak and know what it looks like. Others do not, so remember the old saying: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

With ideal weather for motor trips many from this city have hit the highways to Ensenada in old Mexico in hopes that the green yucca fields just south of Rosarito Beach might be in bloom.

Our Mr. Gerry Stewart visited Ensenada over the weekend and reported a delightful trip, but no yuccas. Cold weather this winter has apparently retarded the beautiful white flowers and according to reliable information blooms are not expected until about the second week in June. It must be a great sight when those miles upon miles of yuccas are in bloom and I hope to see the show this year.

On my never-to-be-forgotten trip to Ensenada last August I saw two different herds of wild horses, real wild horses who grazed and then trotted up steep mountainsides like mountain sheep or goats. Yes, there they were roaming free and wild. No man had captured them to break their wills and fettered them with irksome bonds.

You will likely see these roving herds of wild horses if you motor down into Mexico. In spite of all the opposition, not only by so called reformers, but civic and church societies, that there is not enough room in Southern California for two race tracks, plans are going merrily ahead for the opening of the Del Mar Turf Club July 3, for a meeting that closes July 31. Work is being pushed so that the track will be ready for the inaugural Del Mar is about 100 miles from Hollywood and 19 miles from San Diego.

In Tom Solary's grocery the other afternoon I heard several women telling about some wonderful dishes they learned to prepare at the NEWS cooking school and what a hit they made with their families when they served them. I'll bet a lot of families have enjoyed treats as a result of the school which must have widened the scope of menus in many households. I had a sample of half a dozen dishes prepared by Mrs. Martens, the director, and I know every one of them made a big hit with me. Mrs. Martens, by the way, told me she enjoyed her school here as much as any she ever conducted—and she loves the job. She got a big kick, for instance, out of the co-operation of the lumber company, Langley's Barber shop, the Sierra Madre Tailors and three service stations associating themselves and co-operating with the cooking school. You should have heard the response when our publisher suggested to her last class that a hand be given the business houses that co-operated to make the school a success.

I don't know who or what is ringing the church bells, but I'd make a little bet that it isn't the work of woodpeckers. Woodpeckers work like an electrical riveting machine, with a constant rat-tat-tat, but the old church bell really swings and the clapper hits as regularly and methodically as when the sexton yanks on the old bell rope.

Dear Mr. Bill Peet: Even before I read your inquiry for a name for the little "village dog," I had been thinking about a name for him. As he goes trailing about from one to another of his new-found friends and seems to be occupied with the comforts and joys which this trailing brings him I'd like to suggest that he be given the name "Trailer."

Yours truly, Mrs. Letta B. McCall, 185 Santa Anita Ct.
Dear Mr. Peet: Why not call the dog that adopted the police department "Auto," since he

LEGISLATURE HEEDS PUBLIC "NO LEFT TURN" SIGNS

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

NO left turns here!" That public warning signal has bobbed up with rapidly increasing frequency along California's legislative highway during the final weeks of the 1937 lawmaking session.

And the Legislature which threatened, at its outset, to be the most radical in the state's history, has taken heed of the warning in an increasing number of instances.

Still far from conservative, the Legislature now racing toward adjournment has nonetheless killed hundreds of radical, visionary and extravagant schemes which had willing sponsors less than three months ago. The public reaction against radicalism, which came as an aftermath of the "sit-down strike" and violent outbreaks in industrial disputes, has undoubtedly been a dominant factor in bringing a change of sentiment in the legislative houses, but much of the credit for a more temperate attitude also belongs to able and conscientious legislators who counseled caution and reason, even when the tide of public opinion seemed to have veered to the left.

To California's farming areas, facing the most troubled outlook in labor relations in recent years, the psychological effect of the pendulum swing of the Legislature is of greater importance than any farm legislation proposed or enacted. And to farm taxpayers, in common with other taxpayers, the rejection of proposals which would have sharply increased tax burdens is further cause for thankfulness.

Samples of extreme and extravagant legislation, proposed in January, but shelved in April and May, include:

The Criminal Syndicalism Act; decisively repudiated in the Assembly committee. The abortive attempt to rush through a legislative pardon for Tom Mooney; stopped in the Senate.

The extremely one-sided Assembly Labor Relations Act, setting up unfair labor practices for employers with none for employee. Stopped in Senate committee.

The so-called Garrison "Purity of Election Bill," which would have prohibited farm groups, civic organizations, taxpayers groups and individual citizens from effective participation in campaigns on vital public issues, or in supporting or opposing candidates while leaving the door wide open to special interests willing to circumvent the law.

Similar bills regarding lobbying, which would have permitted interests with expensive suites in hotels to carry on as usual, but would have denied public and semi-public bodies the right, without harassment, to retain representatives to appear for them in the halls and committee rooms of the Legislature.

Some fifty bills to create new state departments as new expense to the taxpayer; virtually all relegated to the legislative graveyard.

A variety of 6-hour day bills (with 8 hours pay) which would have made business and industrial overhead prohibitive in many instances, slowing down employment, rather than aiding it. Attempts to bring farmers under the provisions of the unemployment insurance act; defeated in the Assembly. Bills to require a chauffeur's license for all truck drivers (including farmers), to place farm work under the Contractor's License Law, etc.

Possibility still remains, of course, that the Legislature will kick over the traces before adjournment, and the fact still remains that some extreme and unwise bills have passed both houses and will undoubtedly become law. But recalling conditions a few months ago, it could have been much worse.

California savings, building and loan associations made 2,033 loans accepted for insurance by the Federal Housing Administration for a total of $8,068,835 as of April 1. This is an increase of 13.3 per cent through California savings, building and loan channels during the first quarter of the year and 1,475 of these loans have been made for the construction of new homes costing $6,247,290.

One of the choice bits of meaningless abracadabra that goes with the crowning of a British king is the exhortation delivered to the monarch when the coronation sword is presented to him. The words are: "With this sword, to justice, stop the growth of iniquity, protect the holy church of God, help and defend widows and orphans, restore to decay, maintain the things that are restored, punish and reform what is amiss and confirm what is in good order."

"Of course if a British king attempts to do anything beyond what he is told to do, or attempts any kind of reform or action on his own, Parliament is horrified and the powers-to-be start thinking up ways to get rid of him. Yet the words seem so crazy about riding around in the police car?" Anna Ward.

TOWN PICKUPS
In the presentation of an old time comic opera, Frank Daniels, "half pint" comedian of an early day, sang a song entitled "Fairy Tales" and one of the verses questioned the truth of the Pharaoh's fair daughter's story of the finding of Moses half-drowned in the bulrushes. Frank Daniels lived too soon—he could have added a verse to "Fairy Tales" telling about Sierra Madre's bell ringing woodpecker.

One name has been suggested for the fire department's little white dog mascot. "Why not call him 'Two Bits'?" says the lady in our post office.

Sierra Merchants have the nucleus of a good ball club, but it's not good baseball for the first man at bat in the home half of the ninth, his team four runs behind, to try and lay down a bunt. While riding one of the big red trolley cars I overheard two women talking. "Well," said the gal in a red hat, "radio is some good after all in spite of the windy announcements and the transcribed music." "How come?" inquired her companion. "It's like this—last night I heard some terrible music from the orchestra at Frank Sebastian's Cotton Club, Culver City. But, thank goodness I was able to turn off my radio. Just think of how I would have suffered had I been in the club and forced to listen to such horrible noises listed under the head of music!" Now for the hobby show. Al Myers might enter the plans and specifications for the new outdoor baseball park he promised the boys just before Mr. Roosevelt was re-elected President.

ADIOS—will be seeing you next week.

Case And Comment

By Chas. B. Showalter

SENATOR BORAH, in a speech in the United States Senate, warns us of the dangers of Communism and Fascism. William E. Dodd, United States Ambassador to Berlin, warns us of the imminent danger of a Fascist Dictatorship in the United States.

Communists seeking control of the C.I.O. and John L. Lewis does not repudiate them. One of the largest church brotherhoods launches a finish fight against Communism in the United States.

These are some of the headlines in recent issues of the daily papers. Do they mean anything to you? Do you want to continue under constitutional government, or do you prefer a communist or fascist dictatorship? Events are moving rapidly to a show-down.

Mr. Citizen of the U.S.A. you must decide, and soon. If you remain apathetic or quiescent the decision is going to be against you, and there will never be a hope of reversal except by military force.

The growth of Communism in the United States is the most amazing social and political movement in all history. The spectacle of a free people offering to sell themselves into slavery for a fancied and phantom security is without parallel, and can only be accounted for on the basis of ignorance and indifference.

The Communist attack is insidious and persistent. It is in all our schools and colleges. Every woman's club in the country has, at some time or other, been addressed by Soviet speakers. In certain circles it is considered smart to be red. On the contrary it is being plain dumb to allow yourself to be hoodwinked.

What is communism anyway? On paper it is a beautiful theory of a society in which all share and share alike. In actual practice, it is the bloody and despotic rule of a minority mob, in which you, Mr. Citizen, have no voice and no choice except to do and say just what you are told.

You, women of America, who love your church and your God, how would you like to give it all up to worship a Lenin—or a Farley? That is Russian Sovietism.

You, women of America, who love your husbands, how would you like to have him yanked from your arms in the middle of the night by the precinct committee man and never hear of him again? And if you dare ask why or where the firing squad for you. That is Russian Sovietism. You, fastidious women of America, who require your daily scented bath, pink silk undies and diaphanous stockings, how would you like to wear coarse cotton fabrics and brogan shoes, drive street cars and push a scoop in the street? That is some more Russian Sovietism.

Not so smart, eh? You, workmen of America, how would you like to be herded together by iron discipline under military rule and compelled to work when and where and at such tasks as your despotic master directs and for such compensation as he decides? You too have no voice and no choice. That is Russia today. And if your present labor leader becomes dictator you will get just that. And don't forget that Nazism and Fascism are no better. It is only a question of who dictates. You are under either system, a slave of the state, and can do only as you are told.

Industrial workers in Russia, Germany and Italy get less than our "reliefers." On the Russian Collectivist farms the worker is allowed only enough to feed him through the crop season and the crop is taken to feed the army and the horde of bloody tyrants in control. In one district alone, in one year, 3,000,000 farm workers died of starvation.

Industrial workers in Germany earn $6.50 to $10 per week. Other workers much less. In Italy he earns $3.75 to $4 per week. Workers in these countries can never hope to even approximate our standard of living. Things we consider as necessities—automobiles, radios, pianos, movies, bath tubs—are forever beyond his reach.

Amazing as it may seem, there are millions of people in the United States that think they want to trade their freedom for slavery. No, it isn't smart. It is just plain insanity.

The Fascist-Communist march is relentless and inexorable. Unless they crash against the stone wall of Constitutional freedom, supported by an aroused and determined citizenship, they will win.

The attack on the Federal judiciary, the continued usurpation of power by the executive, the profligate borrowing and spending, the precarious condition of Federal finance, widespread labor disturbances, the actual menace of the C.I.O., administrative acquiescence in industrial lawlessness—these are the symptoms of a diseased social and economic structure, that can only be cured by the determined effort and co-operation of all patriotic and loyal citizens who revere their flag, their constitution and their country.

A WEE SMALL TOWN

A wee small town, it nestles there, With houses cute and trees so fair. O'er many years I've watched it grow, Its life, its people I've come to know.

Its little shops, its stores and park, Its murmuring hum as of a lark. It seems to me so little and yet, Away from it I seem to fret.

I know each person very well, Their moods, their thoughts, their faces tell. They speak to me, they nod they smile, That very essence relieves all trial.

That wee small town that nestles there With houses cute and trees so fair, O'er many years I've watched it live, Its life, its faith, its love they give.

Dedicated to Sierra Madre by GREG.

Legg Hails Victory For Reading Public Of The County

County Supervisor Herbert C. Legg yesterday hailed passage by the California Assembly of its bill No. 444 which provides that the publication of election notices, the names of election officials and addresses of polling places shall be handled locally.

If the bill is signed by the Governor, as seems possible, it will replace the present system of printing this important information in one single legal publication of small circulation in Los Angeles.

"The recent victory for this bill is another victory for the reading public of Los Angeles County," Legg declared. "From the inception of the bill, I have supported it because it will give proper and sufficient notice to the public of where they can vote, and who will be their officials."

"Very few people read the single Los Angeles paper which at present, with limited circulation, has exclusive publication rights on this information."

"The average citizen, under the new bill, could pick up his community information and get his election information."

Hometowners Drop First Game Here

Local Fans See Exciting Contest Opening The Baseball Season

Sierra Madre Merchants baseball club opened the local season losing to a strong Monrovia Gas team 8 to 4, in a game that was completely dominated by Pitcher Midkiff of the visitors, who yielded five hits and hung up a record of 17 strike outs.

The game was much closer than the score indicates and but for a rally in the ninth that netted four runs, there is no telling what might have happened.

The visitors scored in the opening. Sierra Madre knotted the count in the third, and by driving two runs across in the fifth assumed the lead only to lose it in the seventh. Going into the ninth with the count 3 to 2 in their favor, Monrovia bunched a pair of singles with a two bagger, a sacrifice fly and two wild pitches to chalk up four tallies to put the game on ice.

With two down in the home half of the ninth, Burt, the Merchants left fielder, crashed to deep center for the first home run of the season on the school lot.

Sierra Madre has the making of a good scrappy ball club, but lack practice more than anything else, also another pitcher to help out Jobey Kiggins. The score:

FIRE FLAMES

By One of The Boys

SELDOM does Chief Richards leave the city and this is fortunate, for it seems that when he does, we have a fire call. Early last Thursday morning Bill and Mrs. Richards packed the Ford and left for the tall timbers. He will pay the usual fine for missing a fire, just like the rest of us.

One of the popular expressions of the fire department is "this is not a one-man department," but Joe Swanson put out a fire all by himself. Leaving the city hall on his rounds as a meter reader, Joe noticed smoke coming from a parked car across the street. Without creating any disturbance, he brought from the car one of the seats that was afire and applied "first aid." Following up, Joe found that the car belonged to a very popular fireman.

Fishing firemen are very successful if bringing home a string of minnows is what is considered good fishing. Gordon McMillan comes down the hill often with a string that looks like the kind we caught in Bull Creek back in Pennsylvania. We called them minnows, Mac calls them fish. Steve Petzel doesn't say much, but he too, brags about his minnows.

The vacant lots about town are now in fine shape to burn, so all that is needed is the lighted cigarette butt or a carelessly flipped match to see the fire trucks leave the station. The wild oats crop is the best in several years. A good tractor and a disc would do a fine job of elimination for this hazard. Our mountain water sheds are now in very great danger and we must be careful.

At the drill on Friday, Tom Schwartz came too late to do in his overalls so had to work in his white shirt. Tom nevertheless was able to do his stuff. Tom is a very valuable man to the fire department, being a natural mechanic and one who understands the workings of the pumps and trucks. Another feature about Tom is that he watches very closely just how the money is spent and its just too bad for the guy who presents a suggestion that does not meet his approval.

The evening of the June Dance is nearing and the firemen are looking forward to a large crowd. A summer dance should be very popular with the people and if it is only half as entertaining as the winter dance, every one will have a fine time.

Fröehlich Subdues 16 Course Meal In New Orleans

"Uncle John" Fröehlich, of the city council, is having a marvelous time during his Eastern invasion. Life has been one continuous round of pleasure since he and his entourage left Sierra Madre a month ago. They are in John's beloved Brooklyn now, dashing down to Coney Island and Atlantic City for occasional dips in the sea, up through Connecticut on motor jaunts, taking boat trips up the Hudson and sashaying up into Montreal and Quebec.

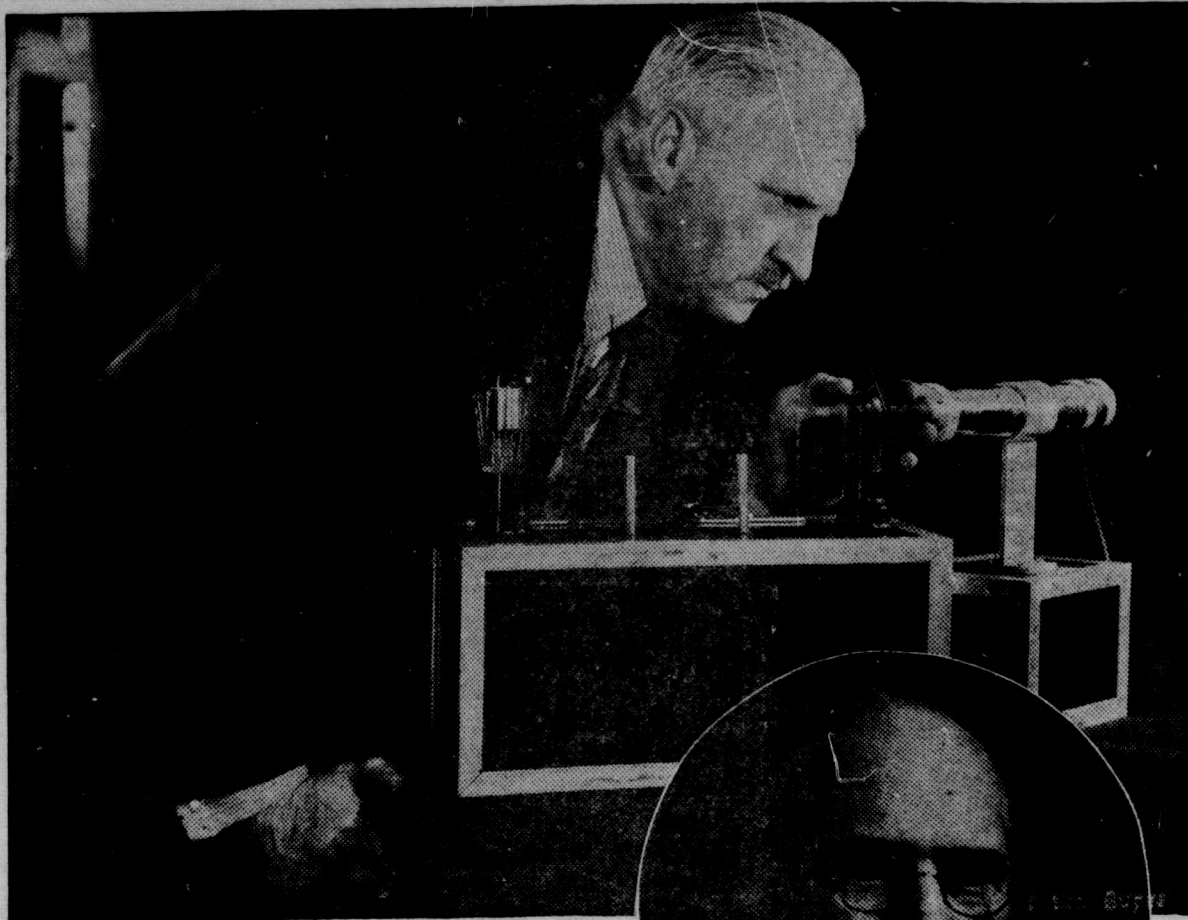

A letter from Fröehlich's son-in-law, Fred Krinke, reveals that "Uncle John" was somewhat disappointed over the result of their visit in New Orleans. They had planned to see a very great deal of this interesting and romantic Southern metropolis. But John missed a whole day of sightseeing and since they were traveling on schedule, had to pull out without having visited half the places he had planned.

The trouble was, it is explained, that they made reservations for breakfast at the famous French restaurant opposite the picturesque New Orleans market. But they learned that breakfast was not served until 10:30 and John rises habitually at 5. He was nearly starved when they crashed the barrier at the restaurant and tackled the 16-course breakfast. Krinke and his wife dropped their knives and forks at 1 o'clock and went sightseeing but Fröehlich held onto his tools and finished the sixteenth course shortly before 4 in the afternoon — the whole day gone, but it was some feat. Few people are ever to go the route.

City Is Asked To Buy Or Rent Canyon Park Property

The building of the city department is actually situated on property owned by Mrs. Cora Corum in Little Santa Anita Canyon. The city will either have to buy the property or pay rent to Mrs. Corum.

That was the apparent course of action facing the city, following last week's council meeting when a representative of Mrs. Corum appeared before the Council and outlined the subject.

He declared that Mrs. Corum prefers to sell the property to the city and mentioned a price of $1000. In the event the city does not see fit to buy the property, Mrs. Corum feels she should charge the city an annual rental for the use of her property, her representative said.

Mayor Reavis said there was some doubt as to just where Mrs. Corum's property line runs and indicated that the building may not be on her property at all. He announced that the city would make an investigation.

School Play Is Given A Big Hand

"Fifth Mound" Is Superbly Presented By Fifth And Sixth Grade Pupils

Clement and other pupils of the school presented a most impressive play called "The Fifth Mound" a former stream hill that grew up over night around the trunk of a great elm, on the site of the school auditorium last Thursday evening. They danced and they sang and they held important speeches known only to little folk on this eve. It was an all-star cast, each performing his part with consummate skill in a production that bore the unmistakable touch of master directorship.

The effects obtained in the scenery and costumes alone were worth the attention of all ardent beauty-lovers, not to mention the rapturous lyrics composed by that talented Louis Courcil.

Couldn't you hear the rustling of leaves, for instance, when that adorable batch of tiny roly-poly brownies was called out of its lair to be present at the party?

The frog, who got a big hand all to himself, was good, too; and, you who were there know, of course, what rounds of spontaneous applause the tap-dancing black horse received! Well, he deserved it, we all know, as did those squirming fat lizards whose gyrations brought down the house.

And no monarch at Westminster Abbey was ever more dignified than the two Kings who occupied their regal thrones in Elfridom last Thursday eve.

This final class offering of the fifth and sixth grades will go down in school history as one of the outstanding pieces of work this year.

Build with LUMBER..

A Lifetime of security at amazingly little cost

Thousands of American families are today realizing their hopes for better homes. There is nothing like lumber for solid comfort in house building. It is durable, easy to handle and inexpensive.

When the Union Pacific was under construction seventy years ago, lumber was scarce in mid-continental America. Methods of logging were tedious and wasteful. Transportation was difficult.

Today, modern methods of logging and lumber manufacture, coupled with fast, dependable railroad transportation, make the choicest lumber available in all markets of America at amazingly low prices. In a frame house of average size the cost of the lumber is only about 15% of the total construction expense—and this includes freight charges to average destinations.

Union Pacific has played a leading part in development of the lumber industry. Steadily through the years, it has bettered its schedules, improved its equipment, to facilitate fast, low cost, dependable delivery of this important commodity. It has recently added 4,500 specially designed cars to its lumber fleet. Progressive steps in pace with a progressive industry.

For better homes—at minimum cost—consult your local lumber dealer.

Play Your Own Game At PTA's Dessert Bridge On Monday

The culmination of much thoughtful planning for the annual P.T.A. Dessert Bridge this year has resulted in some exceedingly attractive ideas. The affair will start at 1 p.m. on Monday, May 24, at the Woman's clubhouse.

Any game that you prefer may be played, of course. There will be door prizes and table prizes, too. The preceding parties of this nature sponsored by the Parent-Teachers have always meant a cessation of all other activities for that day, so worthy in scope and delightful are they.

As this is the last social event to be put on by the PTA this season, it will be wise to make reservations early, either with Mrs. E. E. Hitchcock, Mrs. Frank Naley, or Mrs. J. L. Woehler.

Peeking Into Fruit Helps Growers

Device At Local Packing Plant Attracts Attention Of Shippers

An X-ray machine that enables a person to look inside an orange, lemon or grapefruit to determine whether the fruit has suffered frost damage in last winter's low temperatures has proved so successful at the Sierra Madre-Lamanda Park Citrus Association plant that 70 similar machines are being installed in packing plants throughout Southern California.

The fluoroscope enables fruit to be salvaged that otherwise would be thrown away or used for by-products, thus materially increasing the grower's financial return on his crop.

The machine has x-rayed between 30,000 and 40,000 boxes of fruit at the local plant and is capable of handling 100 boxes an hour. Fruit from Yuma, Coachella Valley, Tulare, Ventura and Orange counties has been shipped for testing.

The x-ray eye of the fluoroscope rejects fruit more than 20 per cent damaged. To bear the Sunkist label, however, fruit must not be more than 5 per cent damaged. The rejected fruit is used for by-products, including juice.

The operator of the machine peers through a window a quarter of an inch thick and composed of 60 per cent lead—a protection against the x-ray.

Build with LUMBER..

A Lifetime of security at amazingly little cost

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

SHIP AND RIDE UNION PACIFIC

Thousands of American families are today realizing their hopes for better homes. There is nothing like lumber for solid comfort in house building. It is durable, easy to handle and inexpensive.

When the Union Pacific was under construction seventy years ago, lumber was scarce in mid-continental America. Methods of logging were tedious and wasteful.
Transportation was difficult.

Today, modern methods of logging and lumber manufacture, coupled with fast, dependable railroad transportation, make the choicest lumber available in all markets of America at amazingly low prices. In a frame house of average size the cost of the lumber is only about 15% of the total construction expense—and this includes freight charges to average destinations.

Union Pacific has played a leading part in development of the lumber industry. Steadily through the years, it has bettered its schedules, improved its equipment, to facilitate fast, low cost, dependable delivery of this important commodity. It has recently added 4,500 specially designed cars to its lumber fleet.
Progressive steps in pace with a progressive industry.

For better homes—at minimum cost —consult your local lumber dealer.

"Uncle John" Froehlich, of the city council, is having a marvelous time during his Eastern invasion. Life has been one continuous round of pleasure since he and his entourage left Sierra Madre a month ago. They are in John's beloved Brooklyn now, dashing down to Coney Island and Atlantic City for occasional dips in the sea, up through Connecticut on motor jaunts, taking boat trips up the Hudson and sashaying up into Montreal and Quebec.

A letter from Froehlich's son-in-law, Fred Krinke, reveals that "Uncle John" was somewhat disappointed over the result of their visit in New Orleans. They had planned to see a very great deal of this interesting and romantic Southern metropolis. But John missed a whole day of sightseeing and since they were traveling on schedule, had to pull out without having visited half the places he had planned.

The trouble was, it is explained, that they made reservations for breakfast at the famous French restaurant opposite the picturesque New Orleans market. But they learned that breakfast was not served until 10:30 and John rises habitually at 5. He was nearly starved when they crashed the barrier at the restaurant and tackled the 16-course breakfast. Krinke and his wife dropped their knives and forks at 1 o'clock and went sightseeing, but Froehlich held onto his tools and finished the sixteenth course shortly before 4 in the afternoon — the whole day gone, but it was some feat. Few people are ever to go the route.

Electrical magic of the world's foremost laboratories will make a public appearance today when the Pacific Coast Electrical Association opens its annual convention in Pasadena. Fred B. Lewis, vice president and general manager of the Southern California Edison Company, is president of the association and Richard E. Smith, executive assistant of the Edison Company, is convention chairman. Six hundred persons, representing every branch of the Pacific Coast electrical industry, are expected to attend the two-day meeting at Hotel Huntington.

Representatives of the electrical industry in the Sierra Madre-Monrovia area attending the convention will include Fred Schwartz, district manager for the Southern California Edison Company. Because of the public interest attending the showing of the newest contributions of the electrical industry to modern life, a special review of convention high-lights has been arranged for Saturday, May 22, to be presented before an invited audience of non-members of the association. An out-door display of new street lighting equipment and an indoor exhibit of electrical devices, many of which have never before been shown on the Pacific Coast, will be featured on this program. C. E. Houston, commercial manager of the Edison Company and president of the Los Angeles County Fair association, has been appointed chairman of this added session, an innovation in convention procedure.

The programs of today and tomorrow will be devoted mainly to practical project demonstrations. A feature of today's program will be a demonstration of "Ramblings in Research" directed by Dr. Phillips Thomas, research engineer of the Westinghouse Electric Company, Pittsburgh, Pa. Demonstrations of new lighting equipment and methods will be presented by H. H. Magdick and H. Freeman Barnes of the General Electric Company, Nela Park, Cleveland, O. A presentation of new electrical discoveries in agriculture and their practical application will be made by Joe K. Ellsworth of the University of California.

Speakers announced by Mr. Lewis include E. F. McNaughton of San Francisco, director of the public utilities department of the California Railroad Commission; C. W. Kellogg of New York, chairman of the board of Engineers Public Service Company and president of the Edison Electric Institute; and W. C. Mullendore, executive vice president of the Southern California Edison Co., Los Angeles, distinguished speaker and writer on economic and governmental problems.
